The map shows individual visits to the web site shown at the top of the page, clustered within a given distance.

The location of each visit is based on the IP address of the computer used.

In order for your map to be 'updated' (whether daily, weekly, or monthly) the number of visitors shown must also have grown by a certain percentage since the last update. This is explained more fully in our FAQ about update frequency.

Total/subtotal discrepancies above are typically caused either by IP addresses not currently
